DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-3, 5-7, 10-12, 25-26, 28-30, 32-34, 79 and 85 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

In regards to independent claims 1, 25 and 26, the prior art fails to anticipate or rendered obvious the combined elements/steps of, "the display preference field allows a user to select between at least an order based on a cumulative viewing timer per channel and an order based on a number of times each favorite channel is viewed", as recited in the claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

As shown by the examiner in the prior art, Lin discloses ordering a display of favorite channels by cumulative viewing time while Candelore discloses ordering a display of favorite channels by the number of times each favorite channel is viewed, however the references do not teach a user selectable display option. Wugofski teaches a display preference field, however, Wugofski only teaches that the display preference field controls the numerical order of display (highest to lowest or lowest to highest).

Therefore, since Lin and Candelore have no user selectable display preference field and only teach ordering a display of favorite channels based on one type of ordering scheme (and doing so automatically), the Lin and Candelore references teach away for the need for a user selectable display preference field, because the favorite channel display ordering functionality taught in Lin and Candelore is performed automatically upon user selection of television programming. Even if Wugofski was used to modify the inventions of Lin and Candelore, the result would simply be a system that calculates a favorite channel list according to the number of times a channel is viewed and a cumulative time a channel is watched and allowing a user to set a display preference based on numerical channel order, not by how the actual channel favorite table is calculated, as recited in the claims of the instant application.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jason P. Salce whose telephone number is (571) 272-7301. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 9am-6pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, John Miller can be reached on (571) 272-7353. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
